

Channing's House

August 27, 2020

To Whom It May Concern:

Our organization, Channing's House, has partnered with Jobs for Women for five years to provide workforce training for survivors of human trafficking. They have been an exceptional partner for helping support the women in our restoration home learn how to reenter the workforce. They offer resume and skills training on computers in addition to hands-on training for specific career paths.

The leadership team at Jobs for Women is such a hardworking, dedicated team. I have full confidence in the information that they share with our organization and trust that they always maintain the interest of their clients first and foremost.

Please feel free to reach out to me directly with any additional questions at 214-123-4567 or LSmith@CH.org.

Kind Regards,
